Secretary's Message

Annual Report 2025–26

Dear Friends, Partners, Supporters, and Community Members,

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Annual Report for the year 2025–26. This year has been one of commitment, learning, and meaningful progress as we continued our mission to improve the quality of life of marginalized and vulnerable communities through inclusive development initiatives.

Our organization remained deeply engaged in addressing critical social issues such as child protection, livelihood promotion, women's empowerment, environmental sustainability, education, health, sanitation, and community strengthening. We firmly believe that sustainable development can only be achieved when every individual—especially women, children, and disadvantaged families—has access to opportunities, dignity, and essential services.

Child protection remained one of our highest priorities. Through awareness campaigns, community vigilance groups, school engagement, and coordination with local authorities, we worked to prevent child labour, child marriage, trafficking, abuse, and school dropout. We also supported vulnerable children to re-enter education systems and promoted a safe and nurturing environment for every child.

Education promotion among dropout and out-of-school children received special focus this year. Through bridge Education Centres, counselling of parents, school enrolment drives, and close coordination with education departments, many children were brought back into mainstream education. We continue to believe that education is the strongest pathway toward social transformation.

Women's empowerment was strengthened through Self-Help Groups (SHGs), skill development, leadership promotion, financial literacy, and entrepreneurship support. Women from underserved communities emerged as leaders, income earners, and decision-makers in their families and villages. Our livelihood promotion initiatives supported youth, farmers, waste pickers, and women with skills, market linkages, enterprise development, and access to government schemes.

We also expanded our efforts in health and community health promotion through awareness drives, health camps, nutrition counselling, maternal and child health support, and facilitation of access to public health services. In parallel, our WASH interventions promoted safe drinking water, hygiene practices, sanitation behaviour change, and improved community cleanliness.

Environmental sustainability and waste management became stronger pillars of our work this year. Through campaigns on waste segregation, support to waste workers, plantation drives, water conservation, and community awareness on climate-sensitive practices, we encouraged greener and healthier communities.

A major area of impact has been facilitating eligible families to access government entitlements such as identity cards, pensions, scholarships, health insurance, ration cards, and social protection schemes. These linkages have helped families improve security, dignity, and resilience.

None of these achievements would have been possible without the trust of communities, the dedication of our staff and volunteers, and the valuable support of government departments, private donors, CSR partners, and development agencies. We deeply value these partnerships and look forward to strengthening them further.

As we move ahead, we remain committed to building empowered communities, protected children, confident women, healthy families, and sustainable environments. Together, we can create a more just, inclusive, and hopeful future.

With gratitude and determination,

Ram Shankar Sharma

Secretary

Executive Summary

During the year 2025–26, our organization continued its commitment to promoting inclusive and sustainable development among marginalized and vulnerable communities. Working in close collaboration with government departments, private donors, CSR partners, and community institutions, we implemented integrated interventions focused on child protection, education, women's empowerment, livelihood promotion, health, WASH, waste management, environmental sustainability, and social inclusion.

Child protection remained a key priority throughout the year. Efforts were made to prevent child labour, child marriage, abuse, trafficking, and neglect through community awareness, counselling, child safeguarding mechanisms, and coordination with local authorities. 62 trafficked children have been rescued from labour work and rehabilitated successfully in coordination with Labour department and family. Community-based structures were strengthened to identify and respond to child vulnerability cases, while families were sensitized on child rights and responsibilities.

Education support focused on identifying dropout and out-of-school children and facilitating their enrolment and retention in schools. Through bridge education support, parent counselling, learning assistance, and school enrolment campaigns, many children were reconnected with mainstream education. Emphasis was also placed on creating child-friendly learning environments and encouraging regular attendance.

Women's empowerment initiatives expanded through promotion and strengthening of Self-Help Groups (SHGs), financial literacy, leadership development, livelihood skills, and enterprise support. Women were encouraged to participate in local decision-making processes and improve their economic independence. Youth and families were also supported through skill development and income generation opportunities to strengthen household livelihoods.

Health and community health programs focused on awareness generation, health camps, maternal and child health, nutrition promotion, hygiene education, and improved access to public health services. WASH interventions promoted safe drinking water, sanitation practices, handwashing, and behavioural change for healthier communities. In this year community-based healthcare institution i.e. Poly-clinic have been established where local women, old person, children and other community people are getting free quality treatment and medication. 4 Ambulance are running 24 X 7 in 4 blocks of Jehanabad which is providing door services to transport any serious patient to reach to government higher quality health facilities.

The organization also prioritized waste management and environmental sustainability through waste segregation campaigns, support to waste pickers, cleanliness drives, plantation activities, water conservation efforts, and awareness on climate-resilient practices. These initiatives contributed to cleaner surroundings and stronger environmental responsibility at the community level.

Significant efforts were made to link eligible individuals and families with government entitlements such as ration cards, Ayushman cards, pensions, scholarships, identity documents, and other welfare schemes. These linkages helped improve social security, access to services, and household resilience.

Overall, the year 2025–26 reflected meaningful progress toward improving quality of life, enhancing community participation, and strengthening local institutions. With continued partnerships and community trust, the organization remains committed to advancing dignity, equity, and sustainable development in the years ahead.

CONTEXT

Background

Gram Swarajya Samiti Ghoshi (GSSG) is a grassroot, non-governmental organization based in Bihar, committed to promoting inclusive rural development, social justice, community health services, protection of child rights and community empowerment. Established in 1993 with the vision of creating self-reliant and equitable villages, the organization works closely with marginalized communities, women, children, youth, waste pickers, farmers, and vulnerable households to improve their quality of life through sustainable interventions.

The organization draws inspiration from the principles of Gram Swarajya—village self-governance, participatory democracy, and local ownership of development processes. Over the years, Gram Swarajya Samiti has built a strong presence in rural and urban-poor communities by facilitating people-centred programs that address critical issues such as education, child protection, women's empowerment, livelihood promotion through skillilng, health, sanitation, water security, climate resilience, and social inclusion.

In the area of child rights and protection, the organization has actively worked to prevent child marriage, child labour, child trafficking, promote access to education, and strengthen community systems for safeguarding children. It engages with schools, parents, community leaders, and local governance institutions to ensure that children grow up in safe and enabling environments.

GSSG has also contributed significantly to Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) initiatives by supporting access to safe drinking water, strengthening village water supply systems, promoting hygiene behaviour change, and encouraging climate-resilient water resource management. The organization believes that access to water and sanitation is fundamental to health, dignity, and development.

Recognizing the need for sustainable livelihoods, the organization has promoted farmer collectives, food processing initiatives, skill development, and entrepreneurship opportunities for rural youth and women. These efforts help reduce migration, enhance household incomes, and create local economic opportunities.

In urban areas, Gram Swarajya Samiti has supported the rights and welfare of waste pickers through initiatives such as identity card facilitation, health coverage enrolment, safety kit distribution, and advocacy for dignified working conditions.

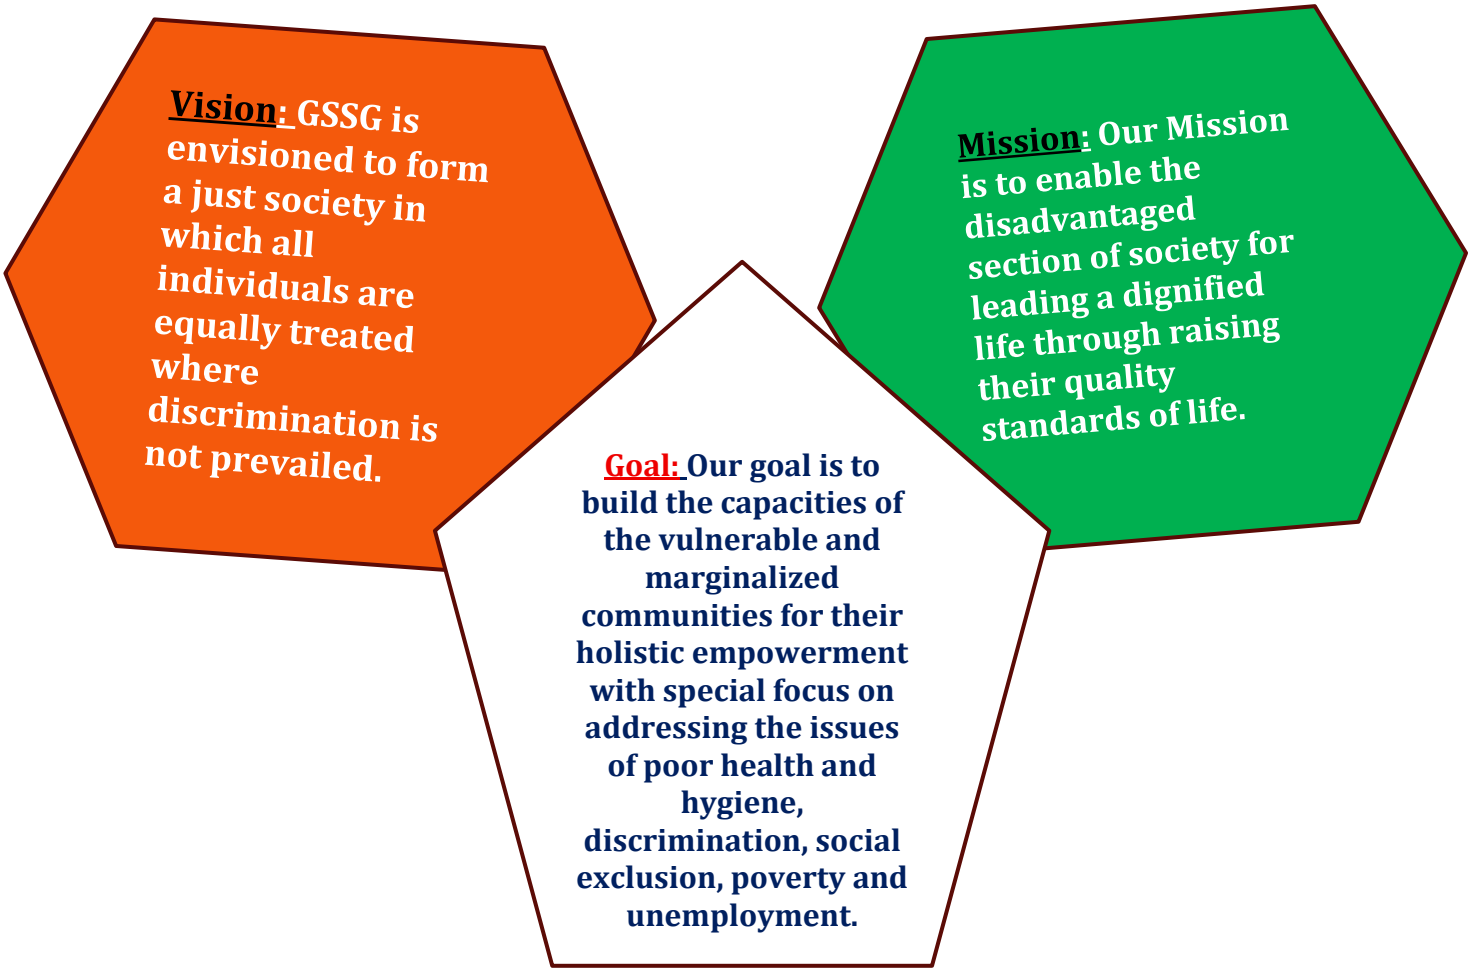

The organization works in close collaboration with government departments, Panchayati Raj Institutions, civil society networks, donors, and community-based organizations. Its approach is participatory, rights-based, and evidence-driven, ensuring that communities are active partners in planning, implementation, and monitoring.

Today, Gram Swarajya Samiti continues to serve as a catalyst for change in Bihar, striving to build resilient communities where every person has access to opportunities, dignity, and justice.

Our stakeholders are:

- Family Unit (Women, Children adolescents and young adults)
- Community groups that deserve special attention (Divyang, Dalits, Widows and old age person)

Activity 2: Orientation Training of recruited Staff on Project Implementation:

The acquired knowledge and skills are essentially required by the project staffs which have raised their self-confidence and interest in the project. The Project staffs were satisfied with the training and they assured to achieve the project goal and objectives.

Activity 3: - Inauguration Of Ambulance Services.

Two New Ambulances for services in Makhdumpur and Jehanabad were inaugurated on 14 July 2025, The day is auspicious day for the people of Jehanabad. Occasion was sermonized by distinguished personality Sri Umesh Sharma (MD Aristo pharma). Other district level officials, community leaders, Media persons and officials of Gram Swarajya Samiti Ghoshi and ARISMA Charitable Trust were present during this occasion. Mr. Umesh Sharma and District level officials jointly flagged off the ambulance to serve the public of Makhdumpur and Jehanabad block of Jehanabad district. On this occasion 1500 people were participated in this event.

Activity 4: Preparation of two Ambulances for making it operational and branding of Ambulance services:

Preparing ambulances for operational readiness involves several important steps we have to follow that they are fully equipped, functional, and ready to provide emergency medical services. All the required medical tools, equipment and machines such as BP Machine, thermometer, Stethoscope, weighing machine, Oxygen Cylinder, patient bed and others will be placed in both of the Ambulances:

1. Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance:

A regular activity that is most important to keep all ambulances ready to go to the caller place. Conduct a thorough inspection of the ambulances, including checking the engine, brakes, tires, lights, and other essential mechanical components. Ensure the fuel tank is full, and fluids like oil, coolant, and brake fluid are at the required levels. Test the battery and electrical systems to ensure they are functioning properly.

2. Medical Equipment and Supplies:

Regularly check and complete the stocking ambulances with necessary medical equipment such as stretchers, oxygen Cylinder, suction units (Suction Pump Adult electric & Suction Pump Adult Pedal), Infrared Thermometer, Pulse Oximeter, BP Machine digital, Stethoscope, Ambu Bag (Adult & Child) and first aid kits.

Also verified that all medical supplies, including bandages, medications, and sterile gloves, are well-stocked and within their expiration dates. Ensure that equipment is properly calibrated and in working condition.

3. Communication Systems:

Communication devices like, mobile phones, and GPS systems were installed and operational. We ensured that emergency contact numbers and communication protocols are accessible and clear to the ambulance crew.

4. Personal Protective Equipment (PPE):

The ambulances are equipped with adequate PPE for the crew, including- masks, gloves, gowns, and face shields. For maintaining hygiene, we ensure the availability of disinfectants and hand sanitizers.

5. Documentation and Protocols:

All necessary documentation, such as patient care forms and Log book are available in the ambulances. Review and brief the ambulance crew on emergency response protocols, patient handling procedures, and safety guidelines.

The ambulance crew is well-trained, certified, and familiar with the equipmen t and protocols. In this we can ensure that the ambulances are fully prepared and ready to provide effective and timely medical assistance in emergencies.

Activity 5: Wall Writings And display of banner.

To effectively inform the public about available ambulance services, wall writing and banners can be strategically displayed in high footfall areas.

Display of wall writing and banners: -

Install wall writings and banners in high-traffic areas such as main roads, intersections, and entrances of public buildings. We Ensure that they are placed at eye level for maximum visibility.

The details of the Places where wall writing and banners has been displayed are given below: -

Activity 6: Detailed description of the implemented activities:

As per the project plan, we have to Publication and distribution of IEC Materials on Public Health for awareness generation. Information, Education, and Communication (IEC) materials are essential tools for raising awareness and educating the public about various health issues. We develop clear, accurate, and culturally appropriate content that effectively communicates public on our Ambulance services which has been approved by Arisma charitable trust officials. We Use simple language and picture of Ambulance to ensure the content is easily understood. We have been printed of IEC but till date we distribute only 5700 copies of hand bill and 560 pc stickers to our targeted Villages of two Blocks i.e. Modanganj and Ghoshi. By developing, designing, and strategically distributing of IEC materials, we can effectively raise awareness, educate the public, and promote the Ambulance services within communities.

Activity 7: Monitoring and Reporting on Providing Referral Support through Ambulance

Both the Ambulances will be run in the close facilitation and regular monitoring of the Ambulance Coordinator. The ambulances will run in a three shift i.e. both the ambulance will run during day shift while one ambulance will run during the night shift. Thus, the ambulance service will be available for the people all the days round the clock i.e. 24 hours x 7 days.

Monitoring and Reporting on the basis of: -

1. No. of Patient.
2. No. of Villages and
3. No. of Call received.

So, till date, the details of above asked required data are given below:-

SL. NO.	N0. OF PATIENT	NO. OF VILLAGES	NO. OF CALL RECEIVED
1	56	35	126

Activity 8: Awareness meeting with Key Stake holders And Community

For awareness on Ambulance services, we Organized awareness meeting under PHC of Ghoshi and Modanganj blocks with ASHA, ANM and Officials of PHC. We also organized awareness meeting with SHG members, PRIs members, Vikash Mitra, Block level officials and citizen leaders of villages. 135 ASHAs and 75 ANM ,8 CHO, 2 PHC AND 14 HSC officials were Oriented on Ambulance services. Communities of 1 village from 94 villages

Activity 9: Monthly Review and Planning Meeting with Staffs:

On every 3rd day of the month, the plan was made to organise the said meeting. however, the staff meeting held every month with a little variance. In each of the meetings, the following agenda is undertaken:

a) Review of the previously planned activities that are planned during the last month.

b) Analysis of the gaps between plan and its realization with specific reasons

c) Preparation of the action plan for the month

d) Monthly Report submission and its documentation.

e) Sharing of the problems regarding Ambulance services and difficulties for finding its solutions.

f) Monitoring of the monthly progress of the project implementation as per the project timeline.

g) in this meeting Mr. Anurag Gunjan sir told about how to improve your patient number.

The regular monthly meetings provide positive energy and help project staff to understand the project direction, achievements, gaps, monthly progress, problems solving etc. It also helps in documentation and preparation of the monthly action plan. A total 4 project duration Staff Review and Planning Meetings were Planned in which 4 meetings are completed.

Activity 1.1: One day Bal Manch Training

On 30th September and 31st September 2025, training of Bal Manch members held. Meeting held at BEC where 15 Child members of Bal Manch were present at all centres. Below is the session on which training held:

1. Welcome & Ice-breaker- Self-introduction. Children introduced themselves which removed their hesitation and make them interactive for the session.
2. Why Bal Manch? (Concept & History)- Way back from UNCRC in 1989, concept of participation emerged and later government policy and acts promoted formation of Bal Manch. In present day schools, NGO, government promote activation of Bal Manch.
3. Vision & Purpose of Bal Manch- Bal Manch has grown into a recognized platform for child participation. Today, Bal Manch is seen as a pillar of community-based child protection systems, complementing government structures like CPCs, School Management Committees, and Panchayats. Bal Manch is a children's collective/platform where children come together to learn, express, and act on issues affecting their lives. It provides a safe space for children to raise their voices, discuss their problems, and participate in decision-making. It is based on the principle of "children as active partners, not passive beneficiaries." Bal Manch nurtures values like leadership, cooperation, equality, and respect for child rights.
4. Formation & Structure of Bal Manch- Electing leaders, forming groups- Children learn how Bal Manch is formed and how decisions are made. We have 15 children in Bal Manch and one senior child is President and 2nd is Secretary. I suggested them to give some designation to other children like Education Minister, Health Minister, Protection Minister, Food Minister as per one's interest and choice.
5. Activities of Bal Manch- Brainstorming. List of activities Bal Manch can do education support, awareness rallies, child marriage-child labour-child trafficking prevention, etc., prevention of exploitation, encourage participation, promote child-friendly society, etc.
6. Roles & Responsibilities of Bal Manch Members- Group work on Who will do what?- Children understand their duties as leaders/members. After finalizing designated role of each child, they will understand their role and responsibility which we will discuss in their next meeting. Our Mobilizers and teachers will support this Bal Manch from outside in conducting regular meeting.
7. Introduction to Child Rights (UNCRC)- Children know their basic rights and laws. A session held on UNCRC and detail of different rights of children according to UNCRC and so responsibility of our governments towards a child. Children understood Rights to live, rights to development, rights to protection and rights to participation. In next meeting we may go with JJ Act.
8. Child Protection Issues (child labor, marriage, trafficking, abuse)- Case studies, role play- Children identify risks and know how to respond. Issues like child marriage and child labour

100-day intensive awareness campaign against Child Marriage

An Initiative of the Union Ministry of Women and Child Development, Government of India

Under the 100-day intensive awareness campaign initiated by the Union Ministry of Women and Child Development, Government of India, we have engaged district level officials, PRI members, religious leaders, media person, teachers & students of schools & colleges, frontline health workers, and other key stakeholders. On the occasion of the conclusion of this momentous journey, Gram Swarajya Samiti Ghoshi stated at a programme that the response received to our selfless efforts reassures us that we are very close to achieving the goal of a Child Marriage Free Jehanabad and a Child Marriage Free India. Gram Swarajya Samiti Ghoshi (GSSG) is the Partner organization of Just Rights for Children, the country's largest network of more than 250 NGOs working towards child protection and child rights.

on 27 Nov 2025, i.e.1st anniversary of Bal Vivah Mukt Bharat was organized in the campus of Murlidhar 10+2 School, Jehanabad. S.D.O. cum CMPO Sri Rajiv Ranjan, Labour Superintendent Sri Mritunjay Kumar Jha, Labour Enforcement Officer Sri Rambabu Kumar with Sri Akriti Raj, members of Child Welfare Committee Sri Sanjay Singh, school Principal and around 500 school children were present on the occasion.

All present government officials and respected audience discussed on how to make Jehanabad a child marriage free district by year 2030. They all called for an action from all to join hands for this social cause. At the end of this occasion all present person took oath to contribute their support in elimination of child marriage from the district.

Further in later months, issue of Bal Vivah was discussed in Gram Sabha of 2 Gram Panchayats on 26th January 2026. These Panchayats were Saistabad and Mandeybigha. To achieve Bal Vivah Mukt Bharat by 2030 was recorded in the proceeding of Gram Sabha.

Prabhat Ferry: A number of Prabhat Ferry held during the period of 29 November 2025 to 25th December 2025. Purpose of this Prabhat Ferry to make community aware on the ill custom of Child marriage which is an imprecation in the society.

- Ferry on 29th November 2025 processed from Middle School at Dhundharbigha where school teachers, 150 boys and 42 girls participated in the marchpast.
- On 2nd December 2025 school teachers and 120 children at Middle School, Waina.

Bal Vivah Mukti Rath

On 27th November 2025 the Bal Vivah Mukti Rath in the district was flagged off by S.D.O, Mr. Rajiv Ranjan. Other government officials like Labour Superintendent Sri Mritunjay Kumar Jha, Labour Enforcement Officer, Sri Rambabu Kumar, Mrs. Akriti Kumari, CWC member Sri Sanjay Singh, Principal of school were also present during this flagging off event. During these 30 days, the Bal Vivah Mukti Rath travelled a distance of 623 kilometres in the Jehanabad district. The Rath reached 62 villages and connected 1,02,224 people to the campaign against child marriage.

On the completion of one year of the 'Child Marriage Free India' campaign, the Ministry of Women and Child Development, Government of India, had announced a nationwide 100-Day Intensive Awareness Campaign on 4 December 2025. The NGO partners of Just Rights for Children took the lead from the front in this campaign and launched Bal Vivah Mukti Rath in 439 districts across the country to spread awareness against child marriage. The Rath travelled through villages and towns of the district, informing people about the harmful impact of child marriage on health, education, and livelihoods, and explaining its legal aspects by making it clear that child marriage is a punishable offence.

- While the Bal Vivah Mukti Rath passed through major roads and accessible routes, motorcycle and bicycle caravans reached remote and difficult-to-access villages to ensure that the message of a Child Marriage Free Jehanabad reaches the very last mile.

- Signature campaign: During this period of movement of Bal Vivah Mukti Rath, an additional activity of Signature Campaign also held where Government officials, PRI members, school teachers & students, children, youths and other stakeholders signed the oath and pledged to not to be involved in any child marriage.
- During this campaign, around 315 vulnerable children had been identified who were prey of marriage. Team of GSSG contacted their families and those families took oath to not to perform marriage of their children. PRI members were witness of this oath and they also ensured to take care of this custom.

बाल विवाह के खिलाफ चलेगा सौ दिनों का अभियान

Case study 1:

Rahul Kumar is a 12-year-old boy living with his family in Saistabad, a small village within the Saistabad Panchayat. His father, Upendra Manjhi (aged approximately 35), works as a laborer at a brick kiln, while his mother, Sushila Devi (aged approximately 31), is a homemaker. The family belongs to the Mahadalit community and faces financial hardship. Due to his parents' lack of education, Rahul's schooling had previously been disrupted. Currently, the Gram Swaraj Samiti Ghoshi is working to reintegrate out-of-school children from the Mahadalit community into the formal school system through 'Bridge Education Centers.' Rahul is a student at one of these centers and is performing well academically; he attends school regularly and completes his studies on time. However, a crisis arose when his parents considered forcing him into marriage. On March 12, 2025, students from the Saistabad Bridge Education Center learned of the planned marriage and immediately alerted the members of the 'Bal Manch' (a children's group dedicated to protecting children from child marriage, child labor, exploitation, and substance abuse). All 15 members of the Bal Manch visited Rahul's home and tried to reason with his father, Upendra Manjhi, but he refused to listen. The matter was then reported to the teacher, Kumari Amisha, who—accompanied by Ward Member Kamdev Chaudhary—visited the boy's home. Kamdev Chaudhary is also a member of the CPC (Child Protection Committee, an 11-member group dedicated to child welfare). He counseled Rahul's parents, Upendra Manjhi and Sushila Devi, and they eventually promised not to force Rahul into marriage. This initiative by the children saved them not only from child marriage but also from child labor; this is because, post marriage, their parents would undoubtedly have pressured them to work to carry responsibilities. Consequently, the child who is currently attending school would have ended up working somewhere, and their happy life would have turned into a living hell forever.

Case study 2:

Sajan Manjhi lives in the Manjhi Tola of Gandhar village (under Gandhar Panchayat, Modanganj Block, Jehanabad district) with his family of eight. Having already married off three of his daughters, he was living in the village with his remaining three children. Struggling with a dire economic situation and a lack of local employment, and influenced by conversations with other families from the village who had migrated to work in a chemical powder factory in Rajasthan, the couple planned to move there after Durga Puja. They intended to take their 10-year-old son, Vigan Kumar, along, while leaving their eldest daughter in the care of her grandmother. Nitis Kumar, a teacher at the 'Bridge Education Center' (run by the organization's 'Andheri Hilfe' project), learned of this plan through neighbors and immediately informed the District Coordinator of the 'Access to Justice for Children' project. Subsequently, Subhadra Kumari (a Community Mobilizer for the project) and Nitis Kumar visited the family and tried to dissuade them, but the parents remained adamant about taking their son to work. District Coordinator Shatrudhan Kumar then intervened, visiting the home with Panchayat Head Shri Rajiv Ranjan to counsel the family. They explained that hindering a child's holistic development for short-term gain and employing children is a legal offense punishable by law—for which the parents alone would be held responsible. Only then did the family abandon their plan to take Vigan Kumar to Rajasthan; instead, they left him with his grandmother and eldest daughter while the couple proceeded to Rajasthan. One month later, the child's mother returned to the village and is now personally looking after the children. He has been immediately enrolled in a Bridge Education Center and is currently receiving education; in April, he will be enrolled in a government school, and his progress will be monitored periodically.

In this way, a child was saved from becoming a child laborer and guided towards education.

PROJECT 4: ARISMA CHARITABLE TRUST, MUMBAI

Promoting Health Status of the Villagers in Jehanabad district focusing Modanganj Block of Bihar for their healthier life by establishing Poly-Clinic"

This project aims to improve the health status of rural communities in Modanganj block and nearby areas of Jehanabad district, Bihar, by establishing and operating a polyclinic that provides affordable and accessible healthcare services. Rural populations often face difficulties in accessing quality medical facilities due to long distances, lack of transportation, and limited availability of doctors and medicines.

The polyclinic is designed to address these challenges by offering regular outpatient services, basic diagnostic facilities, and essential medicines at no cost. The project focuses on providing preventive, promotive, and curative healthcare services to villagers, especially women, children, elderly people, and economically weaker families.

Qualified doctors and trained health staff provide consultations in general medicine, paediatric, and gynaecology. The polyclinic also organizes health awareness programs, health camps, and screening services such as blood pressure and blood sugar testing.

Through this initiative, the project aims to reduce disease burden, improve early diagnosis, and promote healthier lifestyles among rural populations. The polyclinic serves as a reliable and accessible healthcare center for the community and contributes to overall improvement in rural health conditions.

Objective: - The objectives of the project are as follows: -

- To generate awareness and build the capacity of the people and school children/college students on the best practices for better health and hygiene.
- To provide health care services to the people of Jehanabad district in general and Modanganj in particular through poly-clinics.
- To enable people to get referral and specialized health services at higher health institutions.
